

Barriers at the lake:

Thanks to Bill Forbes for providing PLWUS with a couple of boom sticks to make the barrier, and for pulling some big debris out of the lake.

In the picture below, Don is getting one ready for pruning and placement.

The logs got carefully placed in the water. There are water lines in the area...

The two logs have been tied off to shore and here Doane is binding them together at the pointy end.

The finished product. Hopefully it will reduce the amount of debris that accumulates in the culverts. A work in progress and subject to revision as needed.
